Our projects

We implement projects that address the following thematic areas: human trafficking, forced labor and child sexual exploitation (CSE) in 8 departments of Peru.

All our projects are aligned to the following Sustainable Development Goals:

- Prevention of sexual exploitation of children and adolescents in the travel and tourism industry
- Human Trafficking in the Peruvian Amazon
- Commitment against forced labor
- VI Alternative Report on the state of affairs regarding human trafficking in Peru

Financial cooperation and strategic partners

We implement projects that address the following thematic areas: human trafficking, forced labor and child sexual exploitation (CSE) in 8 departments of Peru.

All our projects are aligned to the following Sustainable Development Goals:

- Prevention of sexual exploitation of children and adolescents in the travel and tourism industry
- Human Trafficking in the Peruvian Amazon
- Commitment against forced labor
- VI Alternative Report on the state of affairs regarding human trafficking in Peru

Financial cooperation and strategic partners

- Brot für die Welt
- End Violence Against Children (EVAC)
- Embajada Británica (LIMA)
- KONE
- KONRAD ADENAUER STIFTUNG

Contact us

- Lima
  - Calle Alfredo Salazar 225, Miraflores
  - (01) 421-3396

- Loreto
  - Calle Pevas 1542 IQUITOS
  - (065) 225-650

- Cusco
  - Av. La Cultura s/n, Torre Credinca Of. 1102 Urb. Quispicanchi
  - (084) 584-329

- Madre de Dios
  - Jr. Puno 373, Puerto Maldonado
  - (082) 792-778

- ALL REGIONS

Visit: www.chsalternativo.org

“We seek to report and position human exploitation on the public agenda”
CHS Alternativo is a specialized organization with more than 15 years of experience promoting the protection of human rights especially of girls, boys and adolescents who are victims of, or vulnerable to human trafficking, sexual exploitation and forced labor. We have a nationwide presence: our headquarters are in the city of Lima and we have regional offices in Cusco, Loreto and Madre de Dios. In addition, we coordinate our projects with allied institutions in Arequipa, Ica, Piura, and Puno.

We have consultative status with the UN and are part of the OAS civil society registry. We are members of the following international networks: ONU, OEA.

Our work

Social audit
Since 2009, we present an annual alternative report on the situation of human trafficking in Peru together with allied civil society organizations. Each year we receive information from 314 state institutions with regards to the work they do in the fight against this crime.

Assistance and protection
We have a Legal and Psychosocial Care Center that provides free assistance to more than 1400 victims of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation. Furthermore we wrote to ensure that the institutions in charge of providing care, shelter and reintegration services fulfill their responsibilities.

Technical assistance
In order to strengthen the State’s actions to fight human exploitation, we provide technical assistance and training to law enforcement officials and civil servants. Likewise, we contribute to the development of instruments such as the Intersectoral Protocol to Prevent and Prosecute the Crime and the Protection, Care and Reintegration of Victims of Human Trafficking; the National Plan against Human Trafficking, amongst others.

We have specialized information management systems, which allow us to analyze and understand the reality of victims of human exploitation.

Knowledge management
We have produced more than 60 studies and publications on human trafficking, child sexual exploitation (CSE), forced labor, amongst others, to disseminate and deepen the knowledge on these issues.

Studies, research and reports published by CHS Alternativo, in collaboration with public and private institutions.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

Outstanding achievements of our projects

Participation in networks
We believe that by working together our projects can be more effective and sustainable. We are members of national and international networks and have been summoned as representatives of civil society in the National Multisectoral Committee to Combat Human Trafficking.

We have consulted status with the UN and are part of the OAS civil society registry.

We are members of the following international networks:
- ONU
- OEA

Approximately

Our work

Since 2009, we present an annual alternative report on the situation of human trafficking in Peru together with allied civil society organizations. Each year we receive information from 314 state institutions with regards to the work they do in the fight against this crime.

Since 2009, we present an annual alternative report on the situation of human trafficking in Peru together with allied civil society organizations. Each year we receive information from 314 state institutions with regards to the work they do in the fight against this crime.

Since 2009, we present an annual alternative report on the situation of human trafficking in Peru together with allied civil society organizations. Each year we receive information from 314 state institutions with regards to the work they do in the fight against this crime.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.

More than 1,400 victims of human trafficking from all over Peru who escaped or were rescued have received specialized legal and psychosocial support and protection in coordination with shelters and state institutions.

Approximately 8,400 law enforcement officials increased their technical skills to prosecute the crimes of human trafficking and sexual exploitation of children and adolescents (excluding online CSE *).

23,100 primary and secondary students from Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

1,040 tourism service providers in Lima, Iquitos and Puno were trained to prevent and detect CSE.

Since 2015, we have trained 19,065 law enforcement officials, tourism service providers and members of civil society to prevent, identify and prosecute the crime of human trafficking and other forms of exploitation.